Individual Tax Filing Deadline Extension:

The IRS has extended the filing deadline for individual taxes to May 17, 2021. Minnesota and several other states have adopted the filing deadline as well. Please note that the due date for first quarter estimated tax payments has not been extended at this time. We will continue to prepare returns as they arrive so please continue to send in your information as soon as it is available.

SIMPLE IRA VS. SEP IRA

Most people have heard of Roth and Traditional IRAs. But two other types of IRAs are less commonly known: the SIMPLE IRA and the SEP-IRA, which are available to small business owners. They have similarities, but also some key differences. See full article.
